

Cris Brazil, Ph.D.
Pollution Prevention Specialist
Pollution Prevention Institute (PPI) at Kansas State University

Cris is a Pollution Prevention Specialist at K-State's Pollution Prevention Institute leading two EPA Pollution Prevention (P2) grants and the PPI Summer Internship Program. With a Ph.D. in Industrial Engineering, she has a strong foundation in technology and innovation, lean engineering, statistical and modeling techniques, human factors engineering, and designing and evaluating virtual reality experiences. Cris is dedicated to help organizations reduce their environmental impact and achieve their sustainability goals.